

INTO SOMERSET
WHERE YOU AND YOUR BUSINESS CAN GROW

Somerset

Why is Somerset right for your business?

Somerset is a natural home to free-thinking entrepreneurs and is attracting people in high-value businesses who have the freedom to choose exactly where they want to work and live with their families.

Business owners tell us that the main factors under consideration when reviewing the location of their business are quality of lifestyle for family and employees, Internet connectivity, accessibility to customers and workforce skills. Somerset offers real strength in these key requirements.

LIFESTYLE

Business owners regard the quality of lifestyle for their family and employees as the single most important factor when deciding upon the right location for their business.

- Access to great schools

Educational opportunities in Somerset are first-class, with more than nine out of ten parents achieving their first choice of state secondary school for 2009/10, compared with just two-thirds in some areas of London. Somerset also offers an excellent choice of 25 world-class independent schools... More details

- Low commute times

Two-thirds of Somerset's working population travel less than six miles to work – with nearly half travelling less than 2kilometres.

- Clean air and low pollution

With population density almost half the UK average and much of the landscape being made up of beautiful countryside, small villages and market towns, the air is clean and pollution low.

- Easy access to country and coast

Somerset is beautiful, with a large National Park, many areas of outstanding natural beauty and a varied landscape including the hills of Exmoor, the Mendips and Quantocks and the Somerset Levels – and includes 30km of glorious coastline... More details

Somerset coast and country are easy to reach

“Somerset has just about everything. I could choose to live and work anywhere, but I have chosen Somerset because it gives me the kind of rural life that I want, but with direct and easy access to London and overseas.”
